Informed Consent

Welcome to Our Practice

We look forward to seeing you at your scheduled appointment. To save time on the day of the appointment, please read this Information Package, check and sign the consent document, and complete the enclosed registration forms. Please bring the forms and consent document with you to your visit. If you are unable to complete these forms before your visit, please plan to arrive 15-20 minutes before your scheduled time, so that we may answer any questions that you may have about completing the forms.

General Information

The therapeutic relationship is unique in that it is a highly personal and at the same time, a contractual agreement. Given this, we need to reach a clear understanding of how our relationship will work, and what each of us can expect. This consent will provide a clear framework for our work together. Feel free to discuss any of this with me. Please read and indicate that you have reviewed this information and agree to it by filling in the checkbox at the end of this document.

Mental Health Services

Psychotherapy is a constantly evolving practice that comes in many different forms, encompassing a wide array of techniques, expertise, and theories. The therapeutic relationship is defined by both the provider and the patient and is structured around dealing with the issues you wish to address. There are many different methods and approaches your provider may use to deal with your specific needs. Psychotherapy requires an active effort on your part. Premier Wellness Healthcare strives to assist every patient in identifying and solving all difficulties they may face, even the ones they have yet to uncover. For therapy to be successful, you will have to work on things talked about during your session as well as at home. Additionally, you will need to be open and honest about your feelings related to the process of therapy and how it works for you.

Like all things in life, psychotherapy can have both benefits and risks. Since therapy often involves discussing unpleasant aspects of your life, you may experience an array of emotions such as guilt, sadness, fear, anger, loneliness, or helplessness. These emotions may be overwhelming at times, and you may want to avoid them, however, they are an important part of your treatment process.

Psychotherapy has been shown to have benefits and has been shown to lead to better relationships, solutions to specific problems, and significant reductions in feelings of distress. There are no guarantees of what you will experience. Please be honest about any difficult feelings you may experience, not only those that brought you to therapy but also those that may arise throughout your therapy journey. The therapeutic relationship is a unique opportunity to discuss anything and everything related to interpersonal interactions. If you have questions about procedures, they can be discussed as they arise.

Therapy involves a large commitment of time, money, and energy, so you should be careful about the provider you select. One of the best predictors of successful therapy is the strength of the therapeutic bond between a provider and a patient. If either the patient or provider feels this is not a good fit, we will work with you to find a suitable provider in our practice or surrounding areas.

The Therapeutic Process

You have taken a very positive step by deciding to seek therapy. The outcome of your treatment depends largely on your willingness to engage in this process, which may, at times, result in considerable discomfort. Remembering unpleasant events and becoming aware of feelings attached to those events can bring on strong feelings of anger, depression, anxiety, etc. There are no miracle cures. Your provider cannot promise that your behavior or circumstances will change, but they can promise to support you and do their very best to understand you and repeat patterns, as well as to help you clarify what it is that you want for yourself.

Medical Records

If medical records are requested by other parties, such as attorneys, there will be a service charge for printing and/or copying and mailing.

Forms Completion

We reserve the right to charge a fee for the completion of forms, letters, or any other correspondence (disability, FMLA, MVA, etc.). The fees are as follows: Simple/single-page forms: $10 (each form) - Complex/multi-page forms: $25 (each form). These fees must be paid in full at the time the forms are submitted at the practice.

All payments or correspondence should be mailed to:

Premier Wellness Healthcare

Bel Air, MD 21014

FMLA Paperwork

FMLA paperwork generally requires a minimum of 1-2 hours to complete, due to the need for supporting clinical documentation. Short-term disability often takes longer to complete and may require additional assessments beyond my regular intake evaluation. The time required to make copies or prepare and send faxes, and any other administrative business (e.g. preparing releases of information or requests for records; phone calls to lawyers, or other non-clinical calls) not directly related to the provision of clinical services, will also be based on the complexity of the documentation request, with a minimum fee of $75.00.

There will be no completion of any FMLA, disability, other paperwork, or letters of support unless your provider has met with you for at least 8 sessions. We also will not complete any FMLA or disability paperwork if we are unable to support the request based on what you have presented at intake and during sessions.

Notice of Privacy Practices

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 requires that PWH provide you with information about how we may use your Protected Health Information (PHI). All of that information is contained in PWH's Notice of Privacy Practices which you will receive in a separate document. The Notice will tell you:

- How PWH may use and disclose your protected health information.
- Your rights with respect to the information and how you may exercise these rights.
- PWH's legal duties with respect to the information.
- Whom you can contact for further information about PWH's privacy policies.

Confidentiality

In general, the privacy of all communication between a patient and provider, and information can only be released to others with written permission.

In most legal proceedings, you have the right to prevent your provider from providing any information about your treatment. In some proceedings involving child custody and those in which your emotional condition is an important issue, a judge may order testimony if they determine that the issue demands it. We will not release any information to a court without a judge's court order.

Limits on Confidentiality

There are very few situations in which we are required to break confidentiality:

- If you inform your provider that you are threatening serious bodily harm to yourself or someone else, your provider must take protective action that may include hospitalization, contacting the police, and/or notifying the potential victim.
- If your provider believes any child under 18, elderly, or disabled person is being abused, neglected, or exploited, they are required to file a report to the appropriate agency, usually the Office of Child Protective Services and law enforcement. Once such a report is filed, your provider may be required to provide additional information. If abuse, neglect, or exploitation occurred in the past, your provider is still required to file a report to the appropriate agency.
- If a judge (court order) requires your provider to testify about you or you are being accused of a crime and use your sanity as a defense. If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information concerning the professional services provided by Premier Wellness Healthcare, such information is protected by the psychologist-patient privilege law. Premier Wellness Healthcare nor your provider cannot provide any information without you or your legal representative's written authorization, or a judge's court order. If you are involved in or contemplating litigation, you should consult with your attorney to determine whether a court would be likely to order your provider to disclose information.
- If you file a complaint or lawsuit against Premier Wellness Healthcare or your provider, your records will be used as a defense.
- If a medical emergency arises while you are in session, Premier Wellness Healthcare or your provider will telephone the emergency contact designated on your intake form.

- If you file a worker's compensation claim and your provider is providing services related to that claim, your provider must provide appropriate reports to the Worker's Compensation Commission or the insurer.
- If a government agency is requesting information for health oversight activities, your provider may be required to provide it to them.

The above situations are rare, and your provider will make every effort to fully discuss them with you before taking any action. Let's discuss any concerns that you may have regarding the above. The laws governing confidentiality are complex, and certain situations may require legal advice. If Premier Wellness Healthcare or your provider consults with another professional about a case, they will make every effort to avoid revealing identifying information. The consultant is also legally bound to keep the information confidential. Please also know that Premier Wellness Healthcare is an office with other healthcare professionals where protected information may be shared for administrative purposes and confidentiality is protected.

Designated Spokesperson

Because of privacy rules, providers may not release your health information to anyone without your permission. This includes family members or friends that you may want the provider to keep informed. You may authorize us to share information with specific individuals that you designate as your Spokesperson(s). If you provide this authorization, here are some things that you should be aware of:

- We will share information about the services rendered by PWH Providers only, either in person or over the telephone.
- Once this information is released to the spokesperson, it may no longer be protected by federal privacy regulations.
- The designated spokesperson(s), Medical Power of Attorney, Health Care Agent, or other individual allowed by law will be the only individual(s) who may obtain information about you.
- Your spokesperson does not have decision-making abilities unless they are able to do that as outlined in the law.
- The authorization will expire one year after the date on the Patient Consent Signature form.
- You may withdraw this authorization at any time by notifying the PWH Privacy Officer in writing. If you do withdraw the authorization, it will not have any effect on actions taken by PWH before receiving the written request.
- You may refuse to sign this authorization. Your treatment will not be affected in any way by your choice to grant or not grant spokesperson authorization.

Minors

If you are a minor, your parents may be legally entitled to some information about your therapy. Your provider will discuss with you and your parents what information is appropriate for them to receive and which issues are more appropriately kept confidential.

Termination

During the initial intake process and the first couple of sessions, we will assess if we can be of benefit to you. If you have requested online counseling, our assessment will include your suitability for psychotherapy delivered via technology. We do not accept patients whom, in our opinion, we cannot help. In such a case, you will be given several referrals that you may contact. If at any point during psychotherapy, your provider assesses that he/she is not effective in helping you reach your therapeutic goals, they are obliged to discuss this with you, up to and including termination of treatment. In such a case, you would be given several referrals that may be of help to you. If you request and authorize in writing, your provider will talk to the psychotherapist of your choice to help with the transition. If at any time you want another professional's opinion or wish to consult with another provider, we will assist you in finding someone qualified and, if we have your written consent, will provide her or him with the essential information needed. You have the right to terminate therapy at any time. If you choose to do so, you will be offered the names of other qualified professionals whose services you might prefer.

Dual Relationships

Not all dual relationships are unethical or avoidable. However, sexual involvement between provider and patient is never part of the therapy process, nor are any other actions or dual relationship situations that might impair my objectivity, clinical judgment, or therapeutic effectiveness or that could be exploitative in nature. In addition, we will never acknowledge working therapeutically with anyone without his/her written permission. In some instances, even with permission, we will preserve the integrity of our working relationship.

If we see each other accidentally outside of the therapy office, your provider will not acknowledge you first. Your right to privacy and confidentiality is of the utmost importance to me, and your provider does not wish to jeopardize your privacy. However, if you acknowledge your provider first, your provider will be more than happy to speak briefly with you but feel it appropriate not to engage in any lengthy discussions in public or outside of the therapy office.

Social Medical and Telecommunication

Due to the importance of your confidentiality and the importance of minimizing dual relationships, your provider does not accept friend or contact requests from current or former patients on any social networking site (Facebook, LinkedIn, etc.). Premier Wellness Healthcare and your provider believe that adding patients as friends or contacts on these sites can compromise your confidentiality and our respective privacy. It may also blur the boundaries of our therapeutic relationship. If you have questions about this, please bring them up when you meet with your therapist and you can talk more about it.

Electronic Communication

Your therapist cannot ensure the confidentiality of any form of communication through electronic media, including text messages. If you prefer to communicate via email or text messaging for issues regarding scheduling or cancellations, your provider will do so. While Premier Wellness Healthcare and your provider may try to return messages in a timely manner, they cannot guarantee immediate response and request that you do not use these methods of communication to discuss therapeutic content and/or request assistance for emergencies.

Services by electronic means, including but not limited to telephone communication, the Internet, facsimile machines, and e-mail are considered telemedicine by the State of Maryland. Telemedicine is broadly defined as the use of information technology to deliver medical services and information from one location to another.

If you and your provider choose to use technology for some or all of your treatment, you need to understand that:

1. You retain the option to withhold or withdraw consent at any time without affecting the right to future care or treatment or risking the loss or withdrawal of any program benefits to which you would otherwise be entitled.
2. All existing confidentiality protections are equally applicable.
3. Your access to all medical information transmitted during a telemedicine consultation is guaranteed, and copies of this information are available for a reasonable fee.
4. Dissemination of any of your identifiable images or information from the telemedicine interaction with researchers or other entities shall not occur without your consent.
5. There are potential risks, consequences, and benefits of telemedicine. Potential benefits include, but are not limited to improved communication capabilities, providing convenient access to up-to-date information, consultations, support, reduced costs, improved quality, change in the conditions of practice, improved access to therapy, better continuity of care, and reduction of lost work time and travel costs. Effective therapy is often facilitated when the provider gathers within a session or a series of sessions a multitude of observations, information, and experiences about the patient. The provider may make clinical assessments, diagnoses, and interventions based not only on direct verbal or auditory communications, written reports, and third-person consultations, but also on direct visual and olfactory observations, information, and experiences. When using information technology in therapy services, potential risks include but are not limited to the provider's inability to make visual and olfactory observations of clinically or therapeutically potentially relevant issues such as your physical condition including deformities, apparent height and weight, body type, attractiveness relative to social and cultural norms or standards, gait and motor coordination, posture, work speed, any noteworthy mannerism or gestures, physical or medical conditions including bruises or injuries, basic grooming and hygiene including appropriateness of dress, eye contact (including any changes in the previously listed issues), sex, chronological and apparent age, ethnicity, facial and body language, and congruence of language and facial or bodily expression. Potential consequences thus include the provider not being aware of what they would consider important information that you may not recognize as significant to present verbally to the provider.

Insurance Coverage

We participate with most insurance plans. Please bring a photo ID and your insurance card(s) to each appointment.

It is your responsibility to know and understand the terms of your insurance coverage. Your insurance plan is a contract between you and your carrier. It is your responsibility to know whether your insurance carrier requires a referral and to bring it with you at the time of service. If you present without a referral when one is required, we will ask you to sign a Voluntary Waiver of Insurance Benefits if you want to receive services that day. You will be responsible for the bill. Please contact your insurance carrier with any questions regarding your coverage.

HMO/Managed Care Plans

Deductibles, Co-pays, and Coinsurance

All co-pays are due at the time of service. Contractually, your insurance company requires us to collect the portion for which you are liable at the time services are rendered. Deductibles and coinsurance amounts will be estimated based on the normal reimbursement from your insurance company, you may receive a bill for the additional amount or a refund if you have overpaid once the insurance processes the claim.

Definitions:

DEDUCTIBLE is the amount the patient is responsible for before the insurance plan starts paying for services. The deductible may not apply to all services.

CO-PAYMENT is a fixed amount set by the insurer that the patient is responsible for paying at the time of service. The co-payment may vary by the type of service, the provider rendering the service, and/or the place in which the service is rendered.

CO-INSURANCE is the patient’s cost share, usually calculated as a percentage of the cost of the service. The co-insurance may not be subject to a deductible amount.

Payment for Services

Co-payments/co-insurance and deductibles are due at the time of your appointment. We accept cash, checks, VISA, and MasterCard. If you are unable to pay at the time of service, please refer to the Financial Policy in this package for options available to you.

If you have a balance on your account, you will receive an electronic statement in your Simple Practice Patient Portal and may receive a statement in the mail and/or a phone call about your unpaid balances. If a balance remains unpaid for more than 90 days, the message on your third statement will say that your account is being reviewed for placement with a collection agency. Your account may be assessed a 30% surcharge to cover agency fees. You will be allowed 10 days to send the payment in full. Partial payments or extended payments will not be accepted unless otherwise negotiated with the Billing Department at 888-333-1345.

Informed Consent for Telehealth

This informed consent for telehealth contains important information focusing on doing psychotherapy using the phone or internet. Please read this carefully and let me know if you have any questions. When you sign this document, it will represent an agreement between us.

Benefits and Risks of Telehealth

Telehealth refers to providing psychotherapy services remotely using telecommunication technologies, such as our patient portal, Simple Practice. One of the benefits of telehealth is that the patient and clinician can engage in services without being in the same physical location. This can help ensure continuity of care if the patient or clinician moves to a different location, takes an extended vacation, or is otherwise unable to meet in person. It is also more convenient and takes less time. Telehealth, however, requires technical competence on both the provider's and patient's parts to be helpful. Although there are benefits to telehealth, there are some differences between in-person psychotherapy and telehealth, as well as some risks. For example:

- Risks to confidentiality – Because telehealth sessions take place outside the provider's private office, there is potential for other people to overhear sessions if you are not in a private place during the session. Your provider will take reasonable steps to ensure your privacy, but it is equally important that you find a private place for your session where you will not be interrupted. It is also important for you to protect the privacy of your session on your cell phone or other device. You should participate in telehealth only while in a room or other area where other people are not present and cannot overhear the conversation.
- Issues related to technology – There are many ways that technology issues may impact telehealth. For example, technology may stop working during a session, other people might be able to access your private conversation, or stored data may be accessed by unauthorized people or companies.
- Crisis management and intervention – Unusually, your provider will not engage in telehealth with patients who are currently in a crisis requiring high levels of support and intervention. Before engaging in telehealth, we will develop an emergency plan to address potential crisis situations that may arise during your telehealth work.

Electronic Communication

Our practice utilizes Simple Practice for all electronic communication. Simple Practice will require access to a smartphone or computer to complete your audio and video sessions for telehealth sessions. Simple Practice may also be used for form completion and/or secured communication.

For communication between sessions, our office utilizes the Simple Practice chat, telephone, and email. You should be aware Premier Wellness Healthcare cannot guarantee the confidentiality of any information communicated by email or text. Therefore, we do not discuss any clinical information by email or text and prefer that you do not either. Email and text should be limited to administrative matters such as setting and changing appointments, billing matters, and other related issues.

Treatment is most effective when clinical discussions occur at your regularly scheduled sessions. However, if an urgent issue arises, you should feel free to attempt to reach out to your provider who will try to return your call within 24 hours except on weekends and holidays. If you are unable to reach your provider and feel that you cannot wait for me to return your call, contact your primary care physician, or go to the emergency room and ask for the psychologist or psychiatrist on call. If your provider will be unavailable for an extended period, they will provide you with the name of a colleague to contact in their absence.

Consent to use the Telehealth by Simple Practice Service

Telehealth by Simple Practice is the technology service we will use to conduct telehealth videoconferencing appointments. It is simple to use and there are no passwords required to log in. By signing this document, I acknowledge the following:

- Telehealth by Simple Practice is NOT an Emergency Service and in the event of an emergency, I will use a phone to call 911.
- Though my provider and I may be in direct, virtual contact through the Telehealth Service, neither Simple Practice nor the Telehealth Service provides any medical or healthcare services or advice including, but not limited to, emergency or urgent medical services.
- The Telehealth by Simple Practice Service facilitates videoconferencing and is not responsible for the delivery of any healthcare, medical advice, or care.
- I do not assume that my provider has access to any or all of the technical information in the Telehealth by Simple Practice Service – or that such information is current, accurate, or up to date. I will not rely on my health care provider to have any of this information in the Telehealth by Simple Practice Service.
- To maintain confidentiality, I will not share my telehealth appointment link with anyone unauthorized to attend the appointment.

Confidentiality

Premier Wellness Healthcare and your provider have a legal and ethical responsibility to make their best efforts to protect all communications that are part of telehealth. However, the nature of electronic communications technologies is such that it cannot be guaranteed that communication will be kept confidential or that other people may not gain access to the communications. Best efforts will be made to use updated encryption methods, firewalls, and backup systems to help keep your information private. You should also take reasonable steps to ensure the security of the communications (for example, only using secure networks for telehealth sessions and having passwords to protect the device you use for telehealth)

The extent of the confidentiality that is outlined in the Informed Consent, Notice of Privacy Practices, and Social Media Policy still applies in telehealth. Please let your provider know if you have any questions about expectations of confidentiality.

Emergencies and Technology

Assessing and evaluating threats and other emergencies can be more difficult when conducting telehealth than in traditional in-person therapy. To address some of these difficulties, you and your provider will create an emergency plan before engaging in telehealth services. You will be asked to identify an emergency contact person who is near your location and who your provider or other Premier Wellness Healthcare administrative will contact in the event of a crisis or emergency to assist in addressing the situation. You will be asked to sign a separate authorization form allowing for your provider or Premier Wellness Healthcare administration to contact your emergency contact person as needed during such a crisis or emergency.

If the session is interrupted for any reason, such as the technological connection fails, and you are having an emergency, do not try to reconnect with your provider and instead call 911 or go to your local emergency room.

If the session is interrupted and you are not having an emergency, please stay in your session as your provider will attempt to reconnect. If after 5 minutes your session does not resume, your provider will reach out directly to provide you with further instructions to finish your session.

Fees

The same fee rates will apply for telehealth as apply for in-person psychotherapy. However, insurance or other managed care providers may not cover sessions that are conducted via telecommunication. If your insurance, HMO, third-party payor, or other managed care provider does not cover electronic psychotherapy sessions, you will be solely responsible for the entire fee of the session. Please contact your insurance company before engaging in telehealth sessions to determine whether these sessions will be covered.

Records

The telepsychology sessions shall not be recorded in any way unless agreed to in writing by mutual consent. Records of telehealth sessions will be maintained in the same way in-person session records are.

Good Faith Estimate

Under Section 2799B-6 of the Public Health Service Act, health care providers and health care facilities are required to provide a good faith estimate of expected charges for items and services to individuals who are not enrolled in a plan or coverage or a Federal health care program, or not seeking to file a claim with their plan or coverage both orally and in writing, upon request or at the time of scheduling health care items and services.

You are entitled to receive this “Good Faith Estimate” of what the charges could be for psychotherapy services provided to you. While it is not possible for a psychotherapist to know, in advance, how many psychotherapy sessions may be necessary or appropriate for a given person, this form provides an estimate of the cost of services provided. Your total cost of services will depend upon the number of psychotherapy sessions you attend, your individual needs and circumstances, and the type and amount of services that are provided to you. This estimate is NOT a contract and does not obligate you to obtain any services from the provider(s) listed, nor does it include any services rendered to you that are not identified here.

Credit Card Authorization/Guarantee

- I understand that Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC will be billing my insurance company for therapy or evaluation services (unless I’m paying out of pocket). I further understand that I am responsible for all patient responsibility fees as determined under my healthcare plans such as deductibles, copays, or coinsurance.
- I understand that Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC will work with me and my insurance to receive payments promptly. For my convenience, Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC will wait 90 days to be reimbursed by my insurance carrier for the services provided. However, as insurance companies do not always reimburse promptly or at the rate initially expected, I am giving Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC permission to charge my credit card for any services that have not been paid for by myself or my insurance carrier within 90 days of billing.
- I authorize Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC to keep my signature and card information on file with their payment processor, Stripe, through Stripe's encrypted payment gateway to charge therapy session fees (i.e., copays/coinsurance/deductibles).
- I understand that if I miss a scheduled appointment or fail to provide 24 hours’ notice of my need to cancel, my credit card will be charged for the full self-pay of the session ($50) as insurance does not reimburse for missed sessions.
- I understand that this authorization is valid until canceled in writing. I understand that charges for ongoing services will normally be posted to my credit/debit/flex card account within 48 hours of each session date. Additionally, I agree that the card listed below and/or the card on file may be charged by Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC to settle any outstanding balances accrued upon the termination of therapy services.
- I agree that if I have any concerns or questions regarding charges to my card, or if the charge fails to post to my account, I will contact Premier Wellness Healthcare, LLC for clarification.

Autopay

- All clients, new or returning, who have a credit card authorization on file will automatically be enrolled in autopay. If this is an issue, please contact us directly.

Autopay will not be enabled for clients with two insurances. For clients with two insurances, once both insurances have processed, we will charge any remaining patient responsibility.
